1. To receive the Directors' Report and Statement of

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

THURSDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 8.

ALTHOUGH the New York exchange is unaltered and Paris a shade less favourable, the fact of Consols being again ⅛ higher at 99⅞ is pretty good evidence that the Money Market has taken a decided turn towards ease. French Rentes, too, are ⅛ higher at 116½, but Indian Securities show no change, the Three-and-a-half per cent. Sterling Loan being still at 102, and Enfaced Rupee Paper 82½ for Fours, 89¾ for Fours-and-a-half.

In General Produce Coffee is unchanged. Ceylon Cocoanut-oil is 10s. per ton lower, Cochin unchanged. In Seeds and Wheat no movement is reported.

Piece-goods in Manchester are still dull; but the Liverpool Cotton market is again strong for Americans, with a further advance of 1-16d. of the day's sales, which are estimated at a total of 15,000 bales; however, only 700 bales are put down as Surats, which, moreover, are unaltered in value except for an advance of 1-16d. in good Broach and Hingunghat. It is not unlikely that the extravagant price to which Americans have been pushed may induce spinners to turn their attention more to Bombay qualities, which intrinsically are undoubtedly cheap; but we are inclined to think the present value of American is not likely to be long maintained, however skilfully the corner be manipulated, as Cotton is being pushed forward from the States very rapidly, the shipments for Liverpool during the past two days having been 22,000 bales. The receipts at the U. S. ports yesterday were 8,000 bales against 8,600 on the same day last year, and prices in New York show an advance of ⅛ in ready Mid-Uplands, and-37 points in December shipment.

The biddings for Council drafts in London yesterday resulted pretty much as was generally anticipated here, only 7 lakhs having found buyers at the Government minimum of 1s. 7 13-16d. That the demand for remittance to this side, however, must be fairly good is manifest from the fact of shipments of Silver for this port to the extent of £90,000 being advised in addition, to £10,000 of Gold.

EXCHANGE opened quiet, and for a time the banks seemed disposed to become buyers at a reduction of 1-32d. from yesterday's figures. This decline, however, was not established, and a somewhat firmer turn set in at the close. The following are final rates:—

Bank Bills on demand		..1s. 7 25-32d to 13-16 per rupee.
Do.	telegraphic	..1s. 7⅞d. to 25-32	,,
Do.	3 months' sight..	..1s. 7 15-16d.	,,
Credits,	3 ,, ,,	..1s. 7 3-32d.	,,
Documents,	3 ,, ,,	..1s. 8d.	,,
Francs	3 ,, ,,	..2 12	,,

On Calcutta we quote demand drafts at par to 1-16 premium, 60 days' sight at one per cent. discount.

GOVERNMENT PAPER to-day has been slightly irregular. In the morning a fair demand was manifested, and Fours advanced to Rs. 100¾; but during the afternoon a weaker tone has again been apparent, and the closing rate is Rs. 100¼, sellers. Fours-and-a-half are also dull at Rs. 109.

SHARES continue very quiet, with prices tending in favour of buyers. Banks are all unchanged. In Press Companies there is a decline of Rs. 25 in Fort, Rs. 10 in Apollo, Rs. 5 in Sind, and Rs. 2½ in Mofussil. Spinning and Weaving companies are dull, and generally Rs. 5 to Rs. 10 per share lower. Bombay Saw Mills are Rs. 5 lower at Rs. 560 per share.

COTTON to-day has been firm with some little enquiry, resulting in about 400 bales having been bought for export at an advance of Re. 1 to Rs. 2 per candy. Sellers are very firm, but the low quality of existing stocks is against business.

SEEDS and WHEAT are unaltered in value.

FREIGHTS are unchanged. For Liverpool 41s. 3d. is still being paid for Wheat, and a strong enquiry prevails for early loading steamers at full rates, but beyond November shippers are loth to make engagements.

PIECE-GOODS are, if anything, a shade more cheerful, and a fair extent of firm offer business is passing, as compared with the dullness of a short time ago. Prices, however, are no better.

COALS are unchanged, both in value and tone.

The Bombay Gazette

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1881.

WE are sorry to notice the ground which an influential up-country paper takes with regard to the proposed Northbrook Indian Society and Club. The object is approved: but it appears to the journal in question that Lord Northbrook has shown a certain want of self-respect, in asking the natives of India for financial support. His action in that respect is compared to the course Professor Monier Williams took when endeavouring to collect money for his Indian Institute at Oxford, and to the appeal made more recently by Mr. Robert Knight for contributions in aid of the expenses with which he was threatened in the sham prosecution got up against him in the name of the Hyderabad co-regent. Professor Monier Williams and Mr. Robert Knight may be left for the present to defend their own conduct in the matters referred to as they can, in our opinion, easily do. But it would be a pity if the attempt to divert the prejudice, which these gentlemen may have met with in some quarters, against Lord Northbrook's scheme, should have any success. There are no grounds whatever for the comparison drawn between the three cases; and there are a host of reasons why the subscription list in support of the Northbrook Society should be opened in the first instance in India, rather than in England.

There is no comparison, we say, between the three cases. The ex-Viceroy who has now placed himself upon the level of a certain nobious journalist" is neither working for an ct in which he took a professional interest, as onier Williams avowedly was, nor asking scriptions, for whatever reason, on his ... It follows from this ground of dif- the reminder that his supposed ssor Monier Williams, "has not as yet conferred any substantial benefit on this country," absurd as it is when viewed as a charge against the learned Doctor, has no applicability or relevance whatever to Lord Northbrook's position. Still less apropos is the reference to Mr. Knight, who is indeed obviously enough dragged into the article for no other reason than to give the writer an opportunity of dwelling on the gulf which, in his opinion, ought to separate even such a poor specimen of a Viceroy as Lord Northbrook was from the "notorious journalist." We are glad for our part to think that Lord Northbrook and Mr. Knight have a great deal more in common than either has with their critic.

But while Lord Northbrook's disinterestedness in this matter is so far beyond suspicion, that criticism of the kind we have been commenting on is as ridiculous as it is spiteful, it might of course be nevertheless true that he had made a mistake in appealing first to the natives of India for financial support to his scheme. The error would be one he shares with some very eminent sympathisers with his project as a whole. We have already pointed out that the Prince of Wales, in expressing his approval, felt bound to withhold his name as patron till the event should show whether the native community make a "sufficient response" to the invitation which Lord Northbrook has addressed to them. From similar motives the Secretary and the Under-Secretary of State for India felt constrained to absent themselves from the London meeting, lest their presence should be taken as an indication that Government have any desire to force this scheme on public attention. But their approval of Lord Northbrook's object and method was not withheld. Lastly, Mr. Fawcett not only attended the meeting, but expressed his cordial approval of the scheme and the appeal to India in particular. It would take a good deal to persuade the people of India, and more particularly the natives of Bombay, that anything Mr. Fawcett makes himself a party to, could be of the nature of an illegitimate demand upon their purses. But the most cursory examination of the real objects of this society is enough to show that no mistake has been made in the issue of this circular. Its primary object is "to provide a system of guardianship for young men of good family or position in India sent to England for education." This is its main object, and it is one which, we have no hesitation in saying, it behoves the natives of this country, in the first instance, to say whether they will support or not. It would be different if what was aimed at was a club of the ordinary kind, open to Indian students in London, and to such English gentlemen as might be disposed to avail themselves of the opportunities for meeting these students from time to time which such a club would supply. That, if it were the object of the club, would be one of no little importance; but there might, in that case, be reason for arguing that the expenses of such a club should be thrown on those who belong to it; or that, in the event of external support proving necessary, no very special claim should be made on the generosity of the general Indian public. But the chief object of the club is not to promote social intercourse among native students in London and between them and English friends. It is, rather, by means of such intercourse, to do something to provide these students with the restraints as well as the comforts of a home. This is a public object of the greatest importance to "all who have the best interests of the people of India" at heart, and first and foremost, as we hope will be generally recognised, to the people of India themselves. We are in the infancy of the movement which is sending year by year more young men, whether of good family or of a position which they have won for themselves at their school and college career here, to see the land of their rulers, and bring back a report concerning it. If the Indian people had the control of their own finances, we should not despair of seeing the Indian budget itself saddled with the expenses of an embassy in London, established for the very ends Lord Northbrook is aiming at. As it is, a burden which is more properly a public one than many that have been thrown on that budget is necessarily left to private benevolence. And we trust it will be found that the confidence in the good sense and generous help of the race which Lord Northbrook inspired during his Viceroyalty, and the unwavering trust the people of India have, for very good cause, in Mr. Fawcett, will promptly respond to this appeal. Mr. Shapoorjee Bengalee has led the way with a contribution which sets an excellent example. It is to be hoped that the North-West and Bengal will repudiate the views of the Allahabad paper. But even if they should not, we shall not be surprised to find Bombay presenting Lord Northbrook with the whole of the £10,000 he asks.

May we add that Englishmen have a duty in this matter also which will not, we hope, be altogether ignored? We do not refer so much to subscriptions, though these, we consider, should not be altogether wanting from a race which allowed no false pride to stand in the way of accepting from a wealthy Parsee a steeple for their church at Colaba, and the anonymous gymkhana on the Esplanade. But we desire to put it to our English readers whether we English in Bombay have not some reason to be ashamed of the enthusiasm with which the natives of this country who cross the black water speak of the reception they met at the hands of our kinsmen at home. It is not so much that the native of this country is feted and made a pet of in England. That is not so much the case now that their numbers are yearly increasing. Nor certainly is there any disposition in a society jealous above most of the approaches to friendship and real intimacy, to dispense, in the case of the class to whom we are referring, with all the precautions so dear to it. But natives in London are treated with cordiality to begin with; and the differences of race and blood are not there allowed to form barriers which no private worth and no individual intelligence can overleap. From the middle-class society in London, which is open to him on the same or on much the same terms as it is open to others, the Hindoo returns to his native city, to find that Englishmen will not admit him within the four walls of their clubs—have no desire to become acquainted with his home life, and no intention of admitting him to any knowledge of theirs—and are, as Englishmen are wont to be, perfectly satisfied with a state of things which has no parallel, and never had one, in the civilized world. We think that a system which outrages all the social instincts of humanity can go on for ever because it has no particular inconveniences for us. But the native, it is said, will not eat with us; how can there be any real intercourse between us and him? Really, we cannot say. We can only hope that a time will come when we shall all discover that between the man who will not eat with you because it would involve him in trouble with his caste, and the man who will not speak to you because you will not eat with him, there is not a pin to choose—the former being, if anything, perhaps the more reasonable of the two. If that day ever does come, English society in Bombay may also awake to the conviction that its conduct in rigidly abstaining from all social intercourse or private intimacy with the natives of the country it is engaged in exploiting, is not so much a part of the moral order of the universe as they at present think it is.

WE gladly join the Times of India in the protest it has raised against the proposal to further endow the Church of England in Bombay by presenting it gratis with a valuable site for building purposes. It is impossible that the proposal should be persisted in. Our readers know what we think of the argument that in consideration of the "vast sums paid to temples," Government have a right to devote a small sum to the "religion of the ruling State." Government does not pay vast sums from the public funds to temples; and it is an absurd misuse of words to speak of the communion in question as the religion of the ruling State. The Government of India is of no religion; and the Anglican Church cannot ever claim to be the religion of the servants of that Government. With a Roman Catholic Viceroy and a Presbyterian Governor of this Presidency, the contention is more than usually preposterous. But we are content to rest our opposition to the present proposal on the plain ground, which no lawyer will dispute for a moment, that it is entirely ultra vires of the Government of Bombay to add a single rupee to the endowment already provided for the

THE meeting which was to have been held yesterday afternoon to consider Signor Pompei's proposal to bring an Italian opera company to Bombay was postponed.

WE hear that Mr. W. Webb, acting third Presidency Magistrate, has sent in his resignation to Government, requesting that he may be relieved by Tuesday, the 13th instant, in order that he may proceed to England by the mail-steamer leaving on that day.

As will be seen from our advertising columns, Miss Edith Wilson has succeeded in engaging that popular comedian, Mr. J. S. Hewitt. There is now little doubt that we shall have a theatrical company this year after all, and probably a very good one. Of the Rs. 15,000 required, Rs. 9,000 have, we learn, already been promised, and there should certainly be no difficulty, with so strong a committee, in letting the remaining seats and making up the balance.

In the week ending the 26th of August, the rains in Marwar were the heaviest on record. Hundreds of houses fell down in Jodhpore, and much damage was done.

THE figures showing the progress of the cholera epidemics in various parts of the Presidency are not given in this week's reports. With regard to the Ahmedabad district, for instance, where the disease [illegible] during the previous week than in any district of the Presidency, it is stated simply that there is a decreasing;" with regard to the Surat district, the collectorate in which the disease has been most prevalent for two or three weeks past, cholera still throughout the week ending 2nd instant, and with regard to Broach, it is simply informed, "cholera in eight villages." We are glad to see, from a comparison of the figures given with those of the previous week, that in Surat and Baroda the disease has decreased considerably, the number of deaths during last week being 63 and 32 respectively. In the Ahmednagar district there were 382 deaths, in Ahmedabad 23, in Belgaum 26, Ratnagiri 16, Ankleswar 8, Poona 4, and Kaira 2. In Bombay city the number of deaths fell to 14, as compared to 18 in the previous week, and an average of 21 in the corresponding period of the preceding five years.

THE Englishman understands that the Government of India are not aware what terms may have been named to the promoters of the Central Bengal Railway for the construction of the Dakka-Mymensingh line. Some time ago a despatch went home, as we have already stated, urging that a decision should be given at once. The probabilities are that the arrangement will be effected by the India Office, and then communicated to the Government of India.

A CALCUTTA native paper, the Hindu Patriot, remarks:—"A Chinese Ambassador has arrived here to meet His Excellency the Viceroy. He was for some years in Paris and London. He proceeds shortly to Simla. We believe his mission is connected with the opium question. We believe he was the writer of a recent letter to the Times on that question. He was entertained by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor on Tuesday last. He seems to be intelligent and shrewd."

THE preference of the native community for the new over the old system of the Post-office money orders has been manifested, in a practical way, by an enormous increase of the work done by the Post-office in this department. The report of the Comptroller-General on money orders, for the transactions of the year 1878-79, shows that the average number of money orders issued monthly was 20,155, the total value being Rs. 7,43,726. Directly the new system was established, the corresponding figures sprang up with a bound. For January, 1880, the figures were:—number of orders 60,449, value Rs. 18,85,390. Next month they had increased to 75,671 orders, value Rs. 23,67,482. A steady increase continued; and in December, 1880, they were 145,006, value Rs. 38,41,886. This year they continued to increase up to the enormous total for May of 173,895 orders, value Rs. 50,28,316; and though these at present stand as the maximum, the returns continue to keep in the neighbourhood of those figures; the returns for July, the latest made up, being 187,489 orders, value Rs. 48,57,594. This is an enormous business. And it is clear that the present method thoroughly suits the natives, who are, of course, the largest customers of the Money Order Department. This expansion of the money order business is not only satisfactory as showing that a great public convenience is afforded, but also as bringing in a certain amount of profit to the Post-office. The commissions on the monthly average for the last year of the old system amounted to Rs. 8,822. Those which accrued in May from the fifty lakhs worth of business done amounted to Rs. 60,447. This is not all profit; of course the more the business grows the larger is the establishment required to look after it; but the cost of this is not more than about two-thirds of the gross commissions. So that the money order work now yields Government a profit of something like Rs. 20,000 a month, or Rs. 2,40,000 a year.

[illegible]OUGH in the main appreciative in its tone, the [illegible]tion of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal on [illegible]a municipal administration during the [illegible]not all praise, observes the Englishman.

The small amount of real work done in the matter of town improvement is again the ground of animadversion. Not only has but one out of eight new streets been taken in hand, but the progress in filling up noxious tanks and improving unwholesome bustees has been almost nominal. The first of these failures is attributed to the fact that the land acquisition proceedings could not be completed during the year; but, in the absence of further explanation, this looks too much like pleading one kind of neglect in extenuation of another. This, however, is the least important of the neglected improvements, for it affects only the convenience, while the others affect the health, of the community. Of 482 tanks that stand condemned by the medical officers, only 15 have been filled up, a rate of progress which would require an entire generation for the complete removal of this source of disease, while in the matter of improving the bustees absolutely nothing has been done.

NOTICING the appeal of the Committee of the Northbrook Indian Society, the Hindu Patriot, one of the chief native papers of Bengal, remarks:—"It cannot but be highly gratifying to our countrymen to know that Lord Northbrook continues to take a lively interest in their welfare. One of the most important signs of the time is the growing desire among Indian youths to complete their education in England, and as a necessary condition they ought to be in their statu pupillari placed under proper guardianship. Lord Northbrook as a friend of the people of India, recognizing this necessity, started in 1879 the idea of establishing an institute for this purpose. A year's experience has satisfied the Committee of the institution that it supplies a widely felt desideratum, and that it has the sympathy of both Indians and Englishmen. In order to place the institution on a permanent basis and to provide it with a suitable locality and funded income, it is proposed to raise subscriptions, and the Committee have issued an appeal to the Indian public. We sincerely hope that the appeal will be generously responded to by Indian chiefs and gentlemen. Lord Northbrook has personally addressed many of them. We are authorized to mention that His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor is willing to head the subscription list. As requested, we shall be glad to receive subscriptions in aid of the fund."

WE learn from the Melbourne Argus of August 15 that during their stay in New South Wales their Royal Highnesses the sons of the Prince of Wales visited various parts of the colony, and attended several public entertainments. On the 2nd inst. Prince Albert Victor laid the foundation stone of the Jubilee Tower for Marshall Wood's statue of the Queen, which is to be erected in Kingsford Smith, Sydney. The ceremony was viewed by a very large number of spectators, including 20,000 school children. Sir Henry Parkes subsequently received a communication from the Rev. John Dalton, on behalf of the Princes, intimating that they were much gratified to witness the loyalty displayed on the occasion. At the Randwick Asylum, Sydney, Prince Albert Victor planted two trees in proximity to one planted by his uncle, the Duke of Edinburgh, 12 years ago. On the 6th inst. H. R. H. laid the first stone of a new nave at St. Thomas's Church of England, St. Leonard's. In the afternoon of the same day about 1,000 pupils of the Model Public School in Fort-street paid a visit to the vessels of the squadron. As soon as the steamer containing the children came alongside the Bacchante, their Royal Highnesses appeared on the quarterdeck, and were greeted with hearty cheers, followed by a perfect shower of bouquets. The children afterwards serenaded the Princes. On the 9th inst. their Royal Highnesses and a distinguished party, including several officers of the detached squadron, visited the spot at Botany Bay where Captain Cook first set foot on Australian soil. Their Royal Highnesses planted trees in the vicinity in commemoration of their visit.

A PARIS correspondent writing to an up-country paper and describing "The Electoral Period in France," regrets "the utter spoiling of the exterior of Parisian public buildings and colonnades, often even of private residences, by the posting everywhere of enormous and many-coloured bills. Paris 10-day is electorally tatooed in a manner almost calculated to make the graceful city unrecognizable. It is true that immediately after to-morrow week the face of the fair city will be washed clean again. But just now it is horrible. It is the saturnalia of bill-stickers, and these fellows show their malice in the selection of the points of posting. It is true they are advised to respect private property, but as no punishment follows the breach of injunction, they take but small heed. Especial pleasure is taken in plastering the new and great gates of the residents of the Conservative Faubourg St. Germain with the addresses of the most Radical and Communistic candidatges. The extent of posting, which must cost enormous sums, may be imagined when I mention, on the best authority, that one printing establishment of this city alone received orders for one million five hundred thousand large posters. It is not that there is one broad sheet of address for each voter of the department of the Seine, but that there is also one each for the wives and children of every married male of the capital. And when one reads some of them, never was there such an outpouring of electoral trash."

SIGNOR CHIARINI lately, when going through his performance with the tigers in their cage in Batavia, had a very narrow escape from death. The Indische Vaderland thus describes the occurrence:—"Yesterday Signor Chiarini was very near paying with death the penalty of his rashness in venturing among the tigers. When inside their cage he was making the three tigers run about, he had the ill luck to stumble over one of them. The two others, growling, forthwith threw themselves upon him, and would probably have mauled him seriously had he not by blows, kicks, and cries, succeeded in keeping off the furious animals from him. As is easy to imagine, Signor Chiarini was not a little glad when he, uninjured, had left the cage. No harm had befallen him, but one of the top-boots he had on was slightly damaged."

A LONDON paper of the 19th August, describing the arrangements for the review of Scotch volunteers by the Queen at Edinburgh, says:—The arrangements for the volunteer review on Aug. 25, in the Queen's Park, Edinburgh, are now so far advanced that it is possible to form some idea of the extent and character of the demonstration. The last occasion on which the Queen reviewed her northern volunteer army was on Aug. 7, 1860. The review was held on the same site as that selected for the approaching display; and, as the weather was favourable and the arrangements worked smoothly, the effort was entirely successful. The number of volunteers that marched past Her Majesty on that occasion was 20,522, of whom 18,000 belonged to Scottish corps, while the remainder came chiefly from the north of England. At the time that was considered a splendid muster, especially as the volunteer movement was then in its infancy. The present occasion the number of volunteers will not fall very far short of double that which took part in the review of 1860. The latest estimate puts the number at 38,567 men. Nearly every part of Scotland will have its contingent on the ground. The counties in the far north will be well represented—Caithness by a corps of artillery, and Sutherland and Ross each by a Highland regiment. The Duke of Sutherland is to contribute ten shillings towards the expenses of each of the Sutherland men. This patriotic example is being followed by other local magnates. Lady Matheson of Lewis is to bear most of the expense of sending fifty artillery volunteers from Stornoway. The volunteers will be arranged in three divisions of four brigades each, and each brigade will comprise four battalions. The chief command will be held by Major-Genl. Macdonald, who holds the chief command in North Britain. The Hon. J. Dormer is to act as quartermaster-general. The generals commanding the divisions will be Major-Genl. Sir Archibald Alison, the first; Major-Genl. W. G. Cameron, the second; and Major-Genl. Sir John M'Leod, the third. Some discussion having arisen as to what standard should mark the saluting point, the Queen has given orders that the flag to be hoisted on the occasion shall be the Royal Standard of Scotland, and not that of England, which by an oversight was used at the first review there twenty years ago.

KING KALAKÁUA, a Paris correspondent states, was greatly mobbed during his last visit to the Electrical Exhibition. He told a disagreeable truth to the Minister for Foreign Affairs which shows the Polynesian monarch to be more frank than polite. "I am," he said, "delighted with Paris. It is a city of splendid palaces. But when you have such public buildings, why do you not try and have finer men to put in them? The beauty of your palaces jars with the plainness of their inhabitants."

BIRTHS AND DEATHS IN BOMBAY.—The total number of deaths registered during the week ending Tuesday, 6th September, was 461, being 13 less than in the previous week, 58 more than the week ending 7th September, 1880, and 36 less than the mean of the corresponding period in the preceding five years. During the week 316 births were reported in the different districts of the city. The rate of mortality per 1,000 of the population per annum was 28·78. There were 85 deaths from remittent fever, being 20 less than the previous week, and 24 less than in the same period last year. The deaths from diseases of the respiratory system, diarrhœa, and dysentery were the same as last week, 74, 30, and 18 respectively, as compared with 48, 24, and 15 last year. VISIT OF SIR JAMES FERGUSSON TO THE SASSOON INFIRM ASYLUM.—His Excellency Sir James Fergusson on Wednesday visited the Sassoon Infirm Asylum. Sir James was taken over the premises, kindly spoke to the inmates, and inspected the rations served out to them. The Governor was next taken to the visitor's room, when Rao Bahadoor Khunderao Wishwanath Raste gave His Excellency a short history of the origin of the asylum, and thanked him on behalf of the members of the managing committee for his kind visit. In reply Sir James said that he was glad to notice that the public of Poona had established such an asylum entirely by their own means, and kept it up to the present date in such efficient working order. He observed that the sphere of the institution should been enlarged, and promised that if a representation was made to Government, it would receive his cordial support.—Deccan Herald.

POONA REGATTA.

THE first day of the Regatta (Wednesday) was charming; the arrangements were everything that could be wished,—but the racing was not good. In the last race alone was there anything of a struggle. The river certainly was a very pretty sight.

The first race was the Junior Sculls, and the two competitors were Bethell and Garnett. Bethell won.

The next race was the great race of the evening—the Challenge Fours.

Cox.—H. O. Selby.	Cox.—H. Prendergast.

The two boats got off to a good start, and rowed level for about 150 yards, when Bombay began to forge ahead; and from this point to the end they had the race in their own hands. Inglefield made two very plucky spurts, one at the half mile, and the other some three hundred yards from home. His crew rowed their best, but their opponents were too strong. Naturally we wish that Poona had won; but we sincerely congratulate Bombay. They have had difficulties, as the Poona men have, in getting up a crew, but in spite of them all they have come up for the sake of sport, and we are very glad, indeed, to see them. Next year we hope to see them again, and to meet them with a somewhat stronger crew.

In the race for the Junior Pairs, Nugent and Bethell steered by Miss Ducat beat easily Garnett and Steele steered by Mrs. Babington.

In the race for the Senior Pairs Scott and Louis, the two Bombay men, beat Inglefield and Anderson.

For the Scratch Fours the following crews were drawn:—

Bow—W Hughes.	Bow—J R F Sladen.
Capt. Macdougall.	Surg-Maj F Lyons.
Maj Rowlandson.	C Garnett.
Str—F S Inglefield.	Str—Anderson.
Cox—Miss Holberton.	Cox—Mrs Babington.
Bow—Major Smythe.
H Martin.

Str—L J Steele.
Cox—Miss Bayley.

This was a close race between Inglefield and Steele, Inglefield eventually winning by about a length. Anderson was not in it.—Deccan Herald.

THE MOFUSSIL COMPANY.

THE eleventh annual general meeting of the shareholders of the above company was held yesterday at the registered office of the company, No. 6, Hunnium-street, Fort. Mr. Edward Comber, chairman of the board of directors, presided.

The directors' annual reports, together with accounts made up to 30th June last, show that, notwithstanding the difficulties the board had to contend with in the way of keeping the company's machinery in steady and remunerately employed during the past year, they were able to pass Rs. 10,000 to reserve fund and leave a balance at credit of profit and loss account of Rs. 47,914-14, which will admit of the same dividend for distribution as last year, viz. Rs. 15 per share, leaving a surplus Rs. 1,039-14 to be carried forward to next year's account.

The following resolutions were adopted:—

Proposed by Mr. Edward Comber, and seconded by Mr. Tribhowandas Nuthoobhoy, that the report of the directors, which has been circulated amongst the shareholders, with the balance-sheet and profit and loss account for the year ending 30th June, 1881, be approved and adopted.

Proposed by Mr. Manockjee Eduljee Morris, and seconded by Mr. Manockjall Goculdas, that a dividend of Rs. 15 be declared payable to the shareholders whose names stand on the register on the 8th September, 1881, on and after Monday, the 12th instant.

Proposed by Mr. Cooverjee Merwanjee, and seconded by Mr. Pallonjee Cursetjee, that the election of Mr. Edward Comber, who rejoined the board on his return from England as a director, be confirmed.

Proposed by Mr. Munmohandas Vandrawandas, and seconded by Mr. Pestonjee Darashaw, that Mr. Motiram Bhagubhai, who retires by rotation, be re-elected a director of the company.

Proposed by Mr. Manockjee Eduljee Morris, and seconded by Mr. Manockjall Goculdas, that Messrs. Sadanund Balkrishna and Ardaseer Cursetjee Furdoonjee be appointed auditors for the year commencing 1st July, 1881, and that their remuneration be Rs. 200 each.

An amendment was proposed in respect to this last resolution, that the remuneration to the auditors be Rs. 150 each only, instead of Rs. 200. The amendment was lost.

A vote of thanks was tendered to the chairman, directors, and chief agent of the company, and the meeting terminated.

HIGH COURT—SEPTEMBER 8.

(Before the Hon'ble SIR CHARLES SARGENT.)

A CLAIM FOR TWENTY-SEVEN LAKHS OF RUPEES.

CHARLES AGNEW TURNER VS. KESSOWJEE NAIK.

THIS suit is brought by the plaintiff, the Official Assignee at Bombay, and assignee of the estate and effects of the late firm of Nursey Kessowjee and Co., to recover from the defendant the sum of Rs. 27,21,111-12-11, with interest from the 13th January, 1879, at 9 per cent. per annum. Mr. Jardine and Mr. Russell, instructed by Messrs. Craigie, Lynch, and Owen, appeared for the plaintiff; and the Advocate-General, Mr. Lang, and Mr. Inverarity, instructed by Messrs. Hearn, Cleveland, and Little, for the defendant.

Evidence was called for the plaintiff.

Munmohundas Pragjee, examined by Mr. Russell—I am a mehta in the employ of Mathuradas Lowjee and have examined the books of the Colaba, the New Alexandra, the New Fleming, and the Nursey Spinning and Weaving Company's, of which Nursey Kessowjee and Co. were the secretaries and treasurers. I have also examined the books of that firm, and have made out of the books Nursey Kessowjee's personal account, as well as expense account, and the firm's profit and loss account. I have also made out an account of Dhurumsey Poonjabhoy on the one part and Nursey Kessowjee and Co., on the other part. In the year 1926—

(Witness was going to give an entry from his memorandum.)

The Advocate-General.—What is it you are looking at?

Witness.—My memorandum, made from the books.

The Advocate-General.—I have not much faith in either the witness or his master, and the book must be produced.

Witness continued.—The loss sustained by the firm in 1928 amounted to Rs. 9,70,201. In the year 1928 the firm contained fourteen partners in all. The loss was debited to each of the partners. The total amount due by Nursey Kessowjee to the firm in 1928 was Rs. 53,647. The total amount to the debit of all the partners except three was Rs. 2,63,871. The total amount to the credit of the three partners was Rs. 22,619. The loss of nine lakhs I spoke of swept away all the capital of the firm. None of the partners who became indebted to the firm in 1928 brought capital into the firm afterwards. No books of the firm previous to 1928 had been deposited in the office of the Official Assignee. Those who remained partners of the firm drew out moneys for their maintenance. In 1928 the total indebtedness of the partners to the firm was Rs. 2,52,686, including Nursey Kessowjee's indebtedness. In that year the firm sustained a loss in the cotton business of Rs. 1,49,900, and the profit was Rs. 78,827. The ginning department was Rs. 71,078. If the loss had been debited to the partners it would have amounted to Rs. 3,01,653. In 1930 Nursey Kessowjee owed the firm Rs. 89,811, and the net indebtedness of all the partners was Rs. 3,36,001. The total loss of the preceding years was Rs. 1,24,290; and the total indebtedness of the partners was increased to Rs. 4,62,382. In 1931 the total net indebtedness was Rs. 6,34,003, and in 1932 Rs. 5,30,365. In 1933 the total indebtedness was Rs. 4,99,100. And the net loss was Rs. 3,38,019. Rs. 3,37,311 had been written off to the debit of the partners. If that was debited to the partners, the total indebtedness would have been Rs. 7,77,180. The accounts had not been made up when the books were deposited with the Official Assignee. Up to the end of 1934 the total losses of the firm amounted to Rs. 20,03,484. Some of the accounts are still left open. Nursey Kessowjee Naik's trustees used to pay Rs. 2,000 a month to Nursey Kessowjee. It was credited to Nursey Kessowjee and debited to the trust account for expenses of Kessowjee Naik and Nursey Kessowjee. It appears from the books that Nursey Kessowjee's personal account includes Kessowjee Naik's personal account. In 1929-30 there are Kessowjee Naik's transactions in shares and opium.

The Advocate General objected to questions about this matter.

Mr. Jardine said he wanted to show that Kessowjee Naik was, as

...ut water. For their very sanctity permits them to do without stain acts which would defile the ordinary Hindu. But however worthless the Maharaj may be as a man, however despicable his private character may be, the members of his sect, and indeed the mass of Hindus outside his sect, still revere him as a being quasi divine. He is not a god per se, but, according to the vague theological and metaphysical notions of the Hindu systems, he is an incarnation of the god Vishnu, and that those who reverence him expect him to follow no stricter rule of life than Krishna himself followed.

Jamnagar is situated in Kathiawar, which, as we have said, is the natal soil of the Vallabhacharyas. Hither lived a Maharaj—a loutish youth, named Vrijlalji Vrijnathji. In June last the Postmaster of Jamnagar was charged with having robbed the mail, and among the persons put on their trial as his accomplices was the Maharaj. We need not detail the facts. It is enough to say that, as admitted by the Maharaj's friends, they justified the Court in finding him guilty of having been a party to the theft, and of having been the agent for the disposal of the stolen property. But a nice Constitutional point arose. Kathiawar is not British territory, and the robbery was committed within the jurisdiction of a native ruler. The native Power, however, waived its jurisdiction, and so the case was tried by the Judicial Assistant to the Political Agent. The Maharaj had protested as to the jurisdiction of the Court, and, as it is certain that no native tribunal would have convicted a person of such sanctity, he no doubt did well. But the Bombay Government refused to withdraw the case, and the result was, as we have said, that the Maharaj was sentenced to two years' simple imprisonment, or, in other words, without hard labour. The fact that his imprisonment was to be simple did not, of course, exempt him from the ordinary prison discipline. While, then, the mass of his followers at Bombay protested against his being convicted at all, more reasonable few lamented that an incident punishment as a man should be the indignity worldship inherent in him. A petition, signed sons of all classes and sections" at Bombay, ...nted to the Governor through an English Council, set forth that the large and Vaishnav community had been thrown into ... and manifest affliction by the news of the imprisonment of one whose person was regarded by them as absolutely sacred; that the imprisonment of the Maharaj, if carried out in the usual manner, would in various ways continue to inflict on them much mental distress; and so his Excellency was begged to mitigate, not the sufferings of the accused, but the hardship to the members of the Vaishnav community arising from the sentence. The result was that the Governor directed that one of the sect might be admitted to the gaol for the purpose of preparing his food. But before this, if report speak truly, the Maharaj had got over his own scruples, and eaten freely of the unholy concoction of the gaol cook. Meanwhile, a great subscription has been made to secure the best legal aid, with a view to having the conviction quashed—not on the ground that the finding was against the facts, but on the ground of want of jurisdiction; and, when the last mail left, the agitation had spread from the cities of Western India to Calcutta.

Twenty years ago there was some such excitement among the Vaishnavs of Bombay, and the "Great Maharaj Libel case," which was the cause of it, is still a household word. Then—as happens sometimes in India—a British Court had to make judicial inquiry as to the beliefs and practices of a Hindu sect, and the veil which hides them from the gaze of Europeans was for a while removed. And so it came to be known, from the testimony of members of the sect itself, that the Vallabhacharya regards himself as devoted, "body and soul and worldly gear," to the service of the Maharaj. Even the honour of the women of the devotee's family—a point on which the lowest of Hindus never loses his sensibility—is not excepted. "The Maharaj," recorded the Chief Justice who tried the case, "is identified with the god in his most licentious aspect." The twenty years which have passed since then have been eventful years for Bombay. The city has become the Liverpool and Manchester of the East; it may claim to be the Athens as well. Calcutta, no doubt, is a city of palaces; but the palaces are, for the most part, the homes—the lodgments rather—of strangers from afar. At Bombay civilisation, if of European suggestion, is of native growth. In the great docks which invite the commerce of the East, and the cotton mills, which crowding the suburbs, threaten to drive at any rate the coarser kinds of Manchester goods from the Indian market, natives are interested not as operatives or overseers merely, but as capitalists and managers. No city in the world can show a more splendid collection of public buildings. And the body which administers municipal affairs, with an efficiency which most Western cities may envy, is in fact, and not merely in name, representative of the various classes of residents. No doubt all this wonderful development is not only the result of English rule, but of the influence of English ideas. The merchant princes use English for ordinary purposes as freely as an Englishman would. Papers which are peculiarly the organs of native aspirations appear in English. And the visitor who has spent the morning in exploring the deserted Caves of Elephanta, and dreaming over the sombre images in which the Hindus of a thousand years since embodied their religious ideas, may return to see the Hindu youths of to-day come trooping out of the semi-Gothic buildings of the University, comparing notes on their way to the cricket-ground, about Huxley's views on comparative physiology, or John Stuart Mill's doctrines of Political Economy. Yet such a visitor, were he in Bombay a month ago, might have discovered that on the classes to which many of these boys belong, Hinduism has as strong a hold—perhaps a stronger hold—than it had a thousand years ago.

THE STANDARD LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.
ESTABLISHED 1825.
THE attention of intending Assurers is directed to the following points of this old established office:—
FUNDS.—These now considerably exceed FIVE-AND-A-HALF MILLION STERLING, and are larger than those of any British Office transacting business in India. Detailed statements showing the nature of the Investment are published annually.
ANNUAL REVENUE.—This has now reached EIGHT HUNDRED THOUSAND POUNDS.
CLAIMS.—The amount paid annually to the representatives of deceased Policy-holders is upwards of HALF-A-MILLION STERLING.
NEW BUSINESS.—Since 1865 the yearly New Assurances of the Company have exceeded ONE MILLION STERLING,—a result maintained by no other British Office for so many years in succession.
RATES.—These have lately been considerably reduced at most ages and will be found moderate. Lower rates are not justified by the Company's own experience,—now of considerable extent—nor by the most recent investigation into the mortality of European lives in India.
FACILITIES FOR ASSURANCE.—The Local Boards are empowered to issue Policies and pay claims without reference to Head office, and arrangements can be made for Medical Examinations in any part of India.

TESTIMONIALS.
RHEUMATISM, &c.—"HENRY'S THILUM" has been used in my own family, and its use recommended by me to others. As an emollient, anodyne and detergent application, it is as of SURPASSING VIRTUE. In Rheumatic affections its efficacy, when well rubbed in, cannot be questioned, while its fragrance effectually meets one of the greatest objections to unguents in general.

RINGWORM.—For the last twelve months I had been suffering from Ringworm about my neck, which did not yield to any of the various remedies I used. Having got a box of "HENRY'S THILUM" from you, I made no hesitation in trying it. Six or seven applications of the ointment in two days completely cured me of the disease. I am much delighted to communicate to you this result of my trial of your "THILUM" with a view to your recommending it as a SPECIFIC FOR RINGWORM.

HEMICRANIA AND SCORPION STINGS.—I have used "THILUM" for a pain which I was subject to on one side of my head and face, and it gave me IMMEDIATE relief. I have also applied "THILUM" for Scorpion Stings, and find that it takes much effect and gives IMMEDIATE relief.
